

DM Closer — Brand Messaging Guide

Positioning for an audience of course & digital-product creators, with closing as the wedge. Everyone teaches build / launch / traffic — you own the part nobody teaches: the close.

The positioning (one line)

I help course & digital-product creators turn conversations into customers — because most creators can build and launch, but freeze when it's time to close.

Broad enough to pull in the whole creator economy; sharp enough that closing is clearly your lane.

Who it's for

Course creators, template/digital-product sellers, and the coaches & marketers around them — people who can get attention and launch, but *lose the sale in the DMs.

The wedge (your unfair advantage)

Build, launch, traffic, hooks = crowded. Closing / DM conversion = wide open.

You came from the hardest room in sales (1,000+ door closes) and translated it to the DMs. That origin is the proof — lead with it, never bury it.

Voice & rules

- Calm, low, direct, in control. You serve, you don't chase. Human to human.
 - Never pushy, fake, or salesy. No income or earnings claims, ever — teach the move, not the money.
 - When you explain why something works, frame it as how you close — not someone else's system.

Tagline options

- "Build it. Launch it. Close it."
- "Most creators can market. Few can close."
- "The launch doesn't pay you — the close does."
- "From the hardest door in sales to your DMs."
- "Stop chasing leads. Start closing them."

Content pillars (rotate weekly)

Pillar	Covers	Pulls in
Offer	what digital product to sell, package, validate	product creators
Launch	launch sequences, urgency-without-sleaze, launch content	marketers
Traffic / Hooks	reels, hooks, reach	broad audience
The Close ★	DMs, objections, conversion — your signature	your buyers
Story / Authority	door → digital origin, behind the scenes	trust

Front-load Traffic + Offer + Launch for reach; the Close pillar is what makes you different and drives the sale.

The funnel (every post ends here)

Broad / curiosity hook → caption value → "Comment CLOSER " → auto-DM (ManyChat or IG keyword reply) instantly sends your DM closing system. The comment feeds the algorithm; the auto-DM starts the close. That comment → DM hand-off is your product in action.

How the product fits

The DM Closer app is the wedge made tangible — the closing system you hand someone the moment they comment CLOSER. The brand widens to "build/launch/sell digital products"; the product stays laser-focused on the close. Keep the app's own copy about closing — don't dilute it.

Optional app-copy tweak (to connect the product to the broader brand)

Your app header currently reads:

- Kicker: The Digital Closer · DM Closer
- H1: Work the whole conversation.
- Sub: Paste a door, a DM, or a call objection...

Light tweak to nod at launches without losing the closing focus:

- Sub → "Paste a door, a DM, or a launch objection. Get your moves — then tell it what they said back and it calls the next move. All the way to the close."

(Say the word and I'll apply it to `src/DMCloser.jsx`.)
