

DM Closer — Ready-to-Post Reels (your voice)

Built on @misscarolineflett's proven formats, written in the Digital Closer voice:

calm, low, direct, from the hip. You serve, you don't chase. No scripts-that-sound-like-scripts. No income or earnings claims. Audience: course & digital-product creators. Funnel: every caption ends with comment CLOSER → auto-DM sends your system.

On-screen text = exactly what to put on the screen (one line per beat, ~1.5–2s each).

Sound = pick a small trending audio (under ~10K uses) so the algorithm pushes it.

Most of these need zero filming — text over audio, like her biggest reel.

Reel 1 — Value list (her #1 format · no filming)

Format: text-on-screen value list over trending audio · Sound: small trending, calm/confident

On-screen text (beat by beat):

- 7 DM lines I'd never run a launch without 📌
- "Totally fair — what's the one thing you're unsure about?"
- "Not sure it's even a fit yet — can I ask what you're working on?"
- "No pressure — I'll assume the timing's just off."
- "You don't need more leads. You need to close the ones you've got."
- "Want me to get you set up Tuesday, or Thursday?"
- "I'm not here to chase you. I'm here to help you decide."
- Save this for your next launch.

Caption: The launch isn't where deals are won — the DMs are. These are the lines I lean on. No pressure, no chasing, no scripts that sound like scripts. Just straight talk that helps someone decide. Comment CLOSER and I'll send you the full system. Save this · Follow for more.

Why: her highest-reach, zero-film format; a swipe-worthy list people screenshot.

Reel 2 — Origin / journey (her "40K in 30 days" format · no filming)

Format: text-on-screen story over trending audio · Sound: small trending, a little cinematic

On-screen text:

- I learned to close at the hardest door in sales 📌
- A stranger. Didn't book me. Already reaching for the door.
- I stopped fighting the "not interested."
- Agreed. Redirected. Gave them one real reason I was there.
- No pitch. Just curiosity.
- 1,000+ closes later, I do the exact same thing in the DMs.
- Calm. Direct. Never chasing.

Caption: The door taught me how to close — and none of it was about being pushy. You agree, you redirect, you stay calm, you let them decide. It works the same whether it's a doorstep or a DM during your launch. Comment CLOSER for the system I run. Save · Follow.

Why: curiosity + origin proof (like her journey reel); builds authority without a single claim about money.

Reel 3 — Spoken hack for reach (her #2 format · quick screen-record)

Format: screen-recording demo, you talking · Sound: your voice (small trending under it, low)

Spoken hook (first line): "Phone trick for anyone who sells in the DMs — wish I'd known it sooner."

Do on screen: Open iPhone Settings → General → Keyboard → Text Replacement. Add your best lines as shortcuts — type ;price and your full, calm price reply drops in. Show 2–3 (opener, price, "let me think about it" response).

Spoken close: "Stop retyping your best lines. Save this."

Caption: Speed in the DMs is the difference between a closed sale and a cold one — especially mid-launch. I keep my best lines one shortcut away. Comment CLOSER for the actual words. Save this 📌

Why: broadly useful hack = reach (her hack reels were her biggest), still on-niche, funnels.

Reel 4 — Swipe file (her 25,351-comment format · no filming)

Format: text-on-screen listicle over trending audio · Sound: small trending

On-screen text:

- 10 DM openers that start a sale (steal these) 📌
- "Saw you opened the cart — what's holding you back?"
- "Be honest — is it the price, the timing, or the fit?"
- "Not for everyone. Want to know if it's for you?"
- "Most people overthink this. Want the short version?"
- "What would have to be true for this to be a yes?"
- "No pitch — just tell me what you're actually stuck on."
- "If timing's off, say so. I'll check back, no pressure."
- "Want me to walk you through it, or send the quick version?"
- "Ready when you are — Tuesday or Thursday to start?"
- Comment CLOSER for the full closing system.

Caption: Ten openers I use to turn "just looking" into a real conversation — calm, honest, zero pressure. Save them for your next launch. Comment CLOSER and I'll send you the whole system. Follow for more.

Why: a pure swipe file + comment-keyword = a comment magnet (her version pulled 25K+ comments); comment volume buys reach.

Reel 5 — One sharp idea (contrarian · talking head OR text)

Format: talking head or text-on-screen · Sound: trending

Hook / line 1: "Stop chasing launch leads. Pull back and watch them lean in."

Body (say it / screen beats): "Give value, then take a little away. 'Honestly, not sure it's even a fit for you yet — can I ask what you're working on?' That bit of uncertainty makes them sell you on why it fits. Desperation repels. Calm closes."

Caption: Chasing is the fastest way to kill a launch sale. The move is the opposite — give, then pull back, and let them come to you. Comment CLOSER for the push-pull DMs I run. Save · Follow.

Why: pattern-interrupt hook; teaches your signature push-pull in one line.

Reel 6 — Listicle (launch angle · text or talking head)

Format: text-on-screen or talking head · Sound: trending

On-screen text / spoken:

- 3 reasons your launch didn't sell — and it's not the price 📌
- 1. Your offer wasn't clear. Confusion never buys.
- 2. No real reason to act now. "Someday" never converts.
- 3. You marketed hard but never closed the DMs.
- Reach gets attention. The close gets paid.

Caption: Most launches don't die at the price — they die in the DMs, on the "let me think about it" you never answered. Comment CLOSER for the close-it-out scripts. Save this for your next one.

Why: round-number listicle (her format), names the exact pain, funnels.

Posting notes

- Set up the CLOSER auto-DM first (ManyChat / IG keyword reply) so the keyword instantly sends your system — that's the whole funnel.
- Lead with the text/audio reels (1, 2, 4) — lowest effort, highest reach, no filming.
- Round-number, curiosity hooks every time ("7 lines," "10 openers," "3 reasons").
- Keep the voice calm. Where she uses 5 exclamation points, you use a period. That restraint is the brand.
- Caption always ends: Comment CLOSER · Save · Follow.
